BABY BRUTALITY AGAIN JAILS DAMERY

Police Once More Called In By Wife As Infant Beaten

Medical Attendance Required—Child's Face Bruised, One Eye Swollen Shut—Mental Examination in Prospect

Heitor Damery, 24, of 9831 78 street, was charged with murder following the death just over a year ago of his three-and-a-half-month old daughter as a result of cerebral hemorrhage caused when Damery slapped the baby because its crying irritated him, it is said in the city police station cells charged with assaulting his second child, Theresa, aged 2½.

Responding to frantic telephone call from Mrs. Lucine Damery, wife of the accused man, shortly before 7 p.m. Friday, police officers from the Constable H. Lytle found Mrs. Damery in a grocery store near their Forest Hill home.

POUNDED OUT

She told the officers that her husband had evidently gone out of his mind and had pushed her out of the house and started to slap the baby on the ground.

Arriving at the house, the officers found Damery inside after the baby was on the ground.

The baby's face was bruised and one eye swollen shut, and a medical examination was held to determine any further injuries.

Theresa was arrested and taken to the police station at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Damery told the officers that her husband had assaulted both his wife and the baby several times with a belt.

MENTAL EXAMINATION

To determine whether or not Damery is mentally unbalanced, he will be examined at the Oliver Mental Hospital Saturday morning.

When Damery appeared at the Justices' Court for trial in the provincial court in 1938 charged with having caused the death of his first child, he was sentenced to six months in prison, a fine of $100 and a fine of $100.

He was released from prison after about two months prior to his conviction.

Heitor Damery appeared in police court Saturday morning, charged with the same offense, and received an adjournment for one week to allow for mental observation.

DEATH TAKES 53-YEAR-OLD DOUK LEADER

Peter Veregin Dies In Saskatoon Hospital Early Saturday

SASKATOON, Feb. 11—Peter Veregin, spiritual leader of Canadian's 15,000 Doukhobors, died here early today. The 53-year-old Doukhobor failed to respond to medical treatment following an operation about two weeks ago.

Veregin's death occurred before his wife and mother and chief of his household, Mrs. Anna Veregin, and two sons were summoned to Saskatoon.

CAME HERE IN 1927

The leader, known as "Peter the Second," came to Canada in 1927 to seek his father, Peter "Lordly" Veregin, who was killed in a mysterious train wreck in 1908. Veregin, the year before, was born at Uzurki, Russia, March 11, 1877.

The father led a religious sect known as the Community of Christ to Canada in 1890.

Since then the authorities have had a series of clashes with the Doukhobors over their religious demonstrations and internal disputes.

When Peter the younger took over the spiritual leadership of the Christian Community of Universal

Widespread Grief Shown at Death Of Peace Apostle

By The Canadian Press

The death of Pope Pius XI, an apostle of peace in a world tormented with strife, caused common grief among Roman Catholics, 330,000,000 of the earth's people of whom he was spiritual father, and anti-Catholics alike.

HOARE FAVORS DISCUSSION OF BIG PROBLEMS

Raw Materials Question Is Held Out A Means Of Appeasement

PLYMOUTH, England, Feb. 11.—Peculiar discussion of the raw materials question was held out as a means of appeasement to the "have not" nations just in time for the speech of Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary.

"If the supply of raw materials is likely to be the cause of future disputes, it is in reason, why not this question should be under another trade question, should not be settled by discussion and negotiations," Sir Samuel told the Conservative party meeting in the Guildhall.

The home secretary said that his ministry had been told that now His Majesty's navy had been sponsible for stopping the flow of battle ships to the countries ever since the battle of Waterloo.

PLANES ARRIVING

"It is also to be noted with satisfaction," he declared, at one point, "that the first planes bought from America are already arriving and that the foundations have been laid for the production of aircraft in Canada. Once again the new world is coming in to redress the balance of the old."

Sir Samuel assured his audience that Britain's aviation production schedules are most satisfactory.

Italy's 280 bishops were among those who worshipped beside the holy father's body. They had been summoned to Rome by him shortly before his death to pray for an audience that had planned to deliver a day in observance of the 10th anniversary of the Lateran pact, which had sealed the church's alliance with the Holy See. Instead they stood by his bed and recited the office of the dead.

LIET UP CHILDREN

The most touching page of the悲痛的 common page of the church was the common folk of Rome. Men lifted small children to their shoulders to see the saint face to face. Women, with handkerchiefs on their heads, moved in line by the side of trimly uniformed priests and nuns. And society women in silk and fur.

Many who had never seen the Pope were able to get a glimpse of his features.

Shortly after 9 a.m. papal heralds turned out in the early morning to wait in the piazza to see the holy father's body. A line was formed through which only a few high ecclesiastical dignitaries were admitted.

An amendment to the Industrial Conditions Act permits indefinite continuance of arbitration awards, employees and employers included.

Mr. Manning also asked a bill to amend the Credit Union Act, whereby management committee organizing credit unions would be permitted to make rules in the best interests of the unions. At present such members are barred from receiving payment on loans.

Three measures were introduced by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture. One extends penalties for non-payment of taxes and drainage rates while the other two change the Drainage District Act and the Water Supply Act. The amendments permit a committee of authority to write off unpaid taxes under both acts.

TURNER VALE WORK HOURS GO UNALTERED

Investigators Report Released By Hon. E. C. Manning

In Canada, members of the house of commons paid tribute to the memory of the pontiff. In the United States, millions of Catholics prayed for the soul of the Holy Father, while Presbyterians, Methodists and others despatched through State Secretaries Hall, offered his "profound confidence" and spoke of Pope Pius' "lead for peace to come."

Flags throughout Europe flew at half mast and many countries made some expression of sympathy, tribute and grief.

In France, the walls of the Holy Palace in his vatican palace, caused deep sorrow among the nation's predominant Catholic population, masses were ordered in all parishes.

Literary Societies Flourish In Edmonton High Schools As Cold Weather Continues

VICTORIA

By Gordon Brown

It is finally certain that the heroes of the grid at Vic will not have to go to play "parties," for that very essential part of their wardrobe has been assured by the success of a talent lit presented Thursday and Friday of this week.

The "tug-of-war-beans" under the direction of Vic's Boys' Brigade was the finest talent in the school, and it really outshone the rest.

Mark Jordan got the program off to a good start with his tap dancing number and was followed by the boys' band, performing during the interval, with Bill Green, Ralph Hollingsworth and John Miles. Bill sang; Lydia Sander and John Miles did a duet; and Bob Collier, Willie Pearson, Jim Miller and Ken Smith.

In their game with Vic last Wednesday, the boys' band triumphed, and the opportunity to the tune of 35 to 18.

WESTMOUNT

By Bert Nighdale Jr.

Volume A, Number 1 of the Westmount Phoenix was before the eyes of the reading public Thursday evening. The magazine is a page and a half long.

Very much of interest is the short story contest being sponsored by the magazine. A prize is being offered for the best original story, and the first place prize is $100.

On Wednesday the Students' Union arrived at a decision with regard to those to receive athletic awards. The boys' basketball team, the girls' basketball team, the football team, hockey teams and boys' and girls' basketball house had their names chosen as the ones favored, it was decided.

For the Athletic party was set for March 10. The combination of crystal tea and tea and cupping, John Malleson and Bill Lutsky, students, were sold to date.

Provincial Youth Organization Conducts Annual Financial Campaign From February 4 to 18

Youth Work Has Membership Of 50,000

By ALVIN COOPER

In the past few years, hundreds of girls have become members of the Tunis Trail Rangers and Canadian Girls in Training during the formative years of their youth, and this co-ordinated organization has an estimated membership of well over 50,000 in Canada and is at the present time celebrating its 25th anniversary.

The content of the month deals with news stories and the excellent quality of the entries is gratifying to the exhibitors. The Review of our more adventurous shunting program is of a pictorial portrayal of his events up to Banff with the ski train.

Due to the efforts of the radio stations, the boys' work has been obtained, their names being: H. Morris, Ralph Hollingsworth and John Miles. Bill sang; Lydia Sander and John Miles did a duet; and Bob Collier, Willie Pearson, Jim Miller and Ken Smith.

In their game with Vic last Wednesday, the boys' band triumphed, and the opportunity to the tune of 35 to 18.

During the annual finance campaign, February 4 to 18, Alberta citizens are asked to support this organization by contributing to the fund.

The money is used in the organization of new groups throughout the province; organization of 18 districts camps with over 1,000 boys in them; the organization of the Canadian Rangers; and conducted annually throughout the province; leadership material for the volunteer leaders; and many other creative activities. Democ-

Chief Constable A. G. Souta, first donor to the annual Tunis Boys' Finance Campaign, is shown making his personal contribution to Stuart Purvis, head of the campaign committee in Edmonton. The campaign is from February 4 to 18, and funds go to the Boys' Work Board of Alberta. They are used for camps, athletic meets and Boys' Parliament.

rares depend upon the co-operation in the development of Christ's character. If you wish to do this, and those of this Council.

Today is the last Saturday before Valentine's Day, and the Editor is wondering if you are all ready to receive your sentimental valentines ready for your best friends. And the parades are over, the school areas are such fun areas to them.

But the space is very short today so we will just get on with our letters on hand:

WILL YOU BE MY VALENTINE?

Would you be my Valentine? To be my Valentine? To be my Valentine? To be my Valentine?

Dear Editor: I have been wanting to write for a long time, but did not get around to it. In school we have had two contests, one for boys and one for girls, and two of the boys made me write the poem. Here is the poem:

SNOWFLAKES

See the snowflake tumble down,

Draw a post in a pure white gown—

Covering up the little gowns—

But loves to play with dolls—

Which is not her mother's wish,

And so she loudly bawls.

She has to wash the dishes,

But loves to play with dolls,

Which is not her mother's wish,

And so she loudly bawls.

She has to wash her lessons,

Because she hates her sums,

So she just sits and twiddles her thumbs.

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!—By Louise Holmes

CASET OF CHARACTER
SUSIE LAMBERT—She served water to the men of being beautiful.

DR. TREMAYNE—He served Susie's waffles but not her smile.

JEFF BOWMAN—His chief concern was to make Susie beautiful as she was.

Yesterday—He started Susie's parades to say goodbye to Dick after the two had been talking. Susie dropped in for a last waffle at her shop.

CHARTER II

As if he had complimented Susie, instead of her waffles, Dick would always remember her waffles, that was all he could say. She ground his plate adding another pat to his smile. She drew his coffee as if it were a life and filled a glass with ice water. Dick took the glass and put the coffee beside his plate. The brown liquid sloshed over a little and the two of them got a hearty laugh. Leaning against the counter she watched him spread the butter and empty the jug of syrup. He said nothing more.

In the back of Susie's mind ran a monotonous dirge, "This is the last time, this is the last time, this is the last time." She must take Dick would raise his eyes if she did. "I—I saw you graduate this morning," he said, "I—I have to say, 'How'd I do? All right?'"

"Oh, yes," he said. "I'll be getting a sheepskin one of these days."

"Not for two more years," forcing the last words past the drawn-out lips. "I'll be in the post office, taking so long—night classes and summer courses. In a mad desire to impress the district manager, he and herself had entered the music college. Her strangely sweet voice had never caused comment. It was an innocent, young girl, Susie. She also studied French and literature, cultural things, blindfold endings, etc.

"Two years will pass, in no time," he said encouragingly.

With a smile, she was at the time, ran the dirge in Susie's heart. Aloud she asked, "Are you going away today?"

"I'll have about another cup of coffee—all packed bags in the car."

Susie brought the coffee. "To Chicago?" her voice rough with the pain of holding on.

"He's been away a week or so to see the family. Then I'm off to California. I've got a job there." He was happy.

It crossed her mind to wonder why Dick Tremayne should be so pleased with himself. He had not been in the social register. Those like that made Dick so irresistibly his total loss of snobbery. But Callie, far from being far from him, was happy.

Our Old Country Letter — By J. E. Norcross

LONDON, Eng.—(By Mail)—Ber... people have lived years and years... never doubting that one of the sub-editors would make the necessary correction before the "copy" went to the printer. When he did, they would speak the same language, and one could think of it, perhaps they were right.

The newspaper man, a cheerful, affable young man, was enabled for ordinary business purposes, to speak in a genial, conversational, which renders him incapable of describing any news item as he sees, or understanding or reporting accurately anything he writes.

"As the only employment in which these defects do not matter, I have been compelled to give up having to act on its descriptions and reports, but only to sell them to the only curiosities, has nothing to do with the newspaper business and university), he has performed a journalistic and has to be a good reporter, and through a difficult struggle with his own illiteracy and the prejudices of his betters, he has succeeded.

Mr. Shaw has been asked whether, after a third of a century, he was still a newspaper man. He says, "I was an illiterate professor."

"I don't think it is quite as bad as when I was a newspaper reporter," he says. "I was then a newspaper reporter late at night."

Now the telegraph operator found Mr. Bright had had the paper graphed after a paragraph with the words, "My dear little children," and by and by he began to shorten it by writing "kids" for "children."

Mr. Shaw has not modified his views of journalism very much, but he has changed his opinion of medicine and less. "The 'Cited' is a good play, but it will not be an illiterate professor."

Finally, he has no better opinion of the other than that he does. He does not think the filming of his plays will do much in the way of helping him.

"I don't think 'Pygmalion' will bring about anything, but the conditions of the play are such that a good play must make a bad film and that the musical English is not good enough to be converted into the flavor of a Canadian bar-tender or it will not be understood in Seattle where, by the way, Mr. Shaw is not asked to call him."

And, it may be asked, how does Mr. Shaw know this isn't many years, 1,200,000 for the first time and 600,000 for the second. Not everybody, however, is eligible. Another booklet gives a list of reserved occupations those engaged in which are liable to call in war time and will, therefore, not be available for other duties. It includes: women, about 6,000,000 men and women, about half the man-power of the country, are engaged in work from which they withdraw for voluntary service. The list of reserved occupations fills nine pages of the booklet.

At the moment the great question is whether or not Mr. Chamberlain will get his 600,000 men into the House of Lords, and he is entitled to sit in the House of Lords.

At the moment the great question is whether or not Mr. Chamberlain will get his 600,000 men into the House of Lords, and he is entitled to sit in the House of Lords.

Robert Powell, an old age pensioner who believed he was the rightful heir contested the right of Mr. Chamberlain to sit in the House of Lords and enabling him to sit with the peers.

The clerk of the crown office of the House of Lords said Friday that the House of Lords had been informed Jan. 31 that his claim to the title had been confirmed.

"If the influence of Britain is to be strong and beneficent in the world," he said, "we must rid ourselves of the fear of aerial bombardment."

He returned to Mr. Chamberlain. He was initiating the great national service drive which is now in full swing. He spoke a day or two ago of the Anglo-Saxons and quite naturally "kids" was Anglo-Saxon for children. It would be a terrible mistake for him to let the public know that he was one who had succeeded in letting "kids" stand. So the paper came out with my dear little children," and by and by he began to shorten it by writing "kids" for "children."

One was reminded of John Bright, Gladstone's great colleague. Mr. Bright was famous as one of the speakers in an era of great orators. He used the shortest and simplest language, and when he did speak on one occasion had a rather unorthodox consequence.

He was returning from a speech in which he had been addressing an audience of young folk and the telegraphed report of his speech was an illiterate profession.

"I don't think it is quite as bad as when I was a newspaper reporter," he says. "I was then a newspaper reporter late at night."

Now the telegraph operator found Mr. Bright had had the paper graphed after a paragraph with the words, "My dear little children," and by and by he began to shorten it by writing "kids" for "children."

For these 1,000,000 volunteers are something wrong with this nation—something wrong that not even the government could do anything about it."

In short, the Herald means that if Lord Chamberlain tries to take command of the ship of state it must assist now whole-heartedly in keeping the ship of state afloat.

Earl of Egmont Now Entitled to Sit in British House of Lords

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The claim of the Earl of Egmont of Calverley, to sit in the House of Lords has been upheld, and he is entitled to sit in the House of Lords.

The earl, an Irish title, does not rank in the House of Lords, but he also has the Barony of Lovel and Holme, and got his 600,000 men into the House of Lords by enabling him to sit with the peers.

The clerk of the crown office of the House of Lords said Friday that the House of Lords had been informed Jan. 31 that his claim to the title had been confirmed.

The Long Road!

In DOUGLAS REED'S book, "Inflated Fair," he describes the launching at Kiel of a German ship, "the Deutschland," at which a strange incident occurred. The dedicatory speech was being made and the moment was reached when the bottle of champagne would be broken over her, but the ship did not wait. She took the water without authority, racing down the runway, and the speech was never made. The superstitious shook their heads and said the signs were heavy against her, and she sank.

Seven years the Deutschland sailed the seas. Then one day she was mistaken for one of Franco's ships and was sunk by a British submarine as she lay in a harbor of the Iberian. In retaliation for this, a German submarine sank a British and unidentified town called Almeria in Spain in a brutal and senseless attack on non-combatants. The town was razed, many children were ruthlessly killed, and the whole world was shocked. An ill-omened ship surely!

ALLEGORY

There is something allegorical in all this. Germany herself is like the beautiful ship with its lovely lines, great power, potential wealth and beauty. "Germany" was a guarantee of good music, German universities, German scientists, doctors, philosophers, etc. The world. They were welcomed everywhere, and when they came, they were ruthlessly killed, and the whole world was shocked. An ill-omened ship surely!

Before the war, Germany was a defeated nation, twenty years ago, with foreign troops in her territory. She had been beaten, and had to take orders from someone else. Her changes of trade were blocked, and her people suffered.

Now she sits in the sun, the light of the world, the bairn of all the world, the wilderness. We have not lived up to the light we have. We have not been good, and we have not been kind.

Franklin says there are three influences which would rather you pray than work.

We have not yet learned that there is only one way to overcome evil.

GOD'S LOVE

But whether it takes one year or a thousand years, one day God's love will prevail.

Families do it now. Plenty of them. The heart of the nation is not.

Germany is the only country where these things have come to pass. But she must know that this period will be short.

Franklin says there are three influences which would rather you pray than work.

They made use of everything, so no tea, cans, milk bottles, or what has been described as "Plastic Paper" were ever seen in the picnic season. It is bred in the German people to be thrifty and orderly.

Taking care of the world is not a German virtue. They are not as good as the Germans, but they are not as bad as the Germans.

They do not defeat the country or leave black blottches on the when they sink a mine shaft.

REPRODUCTION

They leave desolate forests when they cut down, for each tree that is felled, a sapling is planted.

They made use of everything, so no tea, cans, milk bottles, or what has been described as "Plastic Paper" were ever seen in the picnic season. It is bred in the German people to be thrifty and orderly.

Taking care of the world is not a German virtue. They are not as good as the Germans, but they are not as bad as the Germans.

They do not defeat the country or leave black blottches on the when they sink a mine shaft.

Let us grant all this, and admit them for it.

We can learn from Germany.

It is true that there is intensive training in Germany. Children are passed on from one society to another as they grow up, and the army in the army full grown, tough, hard, physically sound and fit morally and mentally, and obedient.

Ready to do anything they are told— even to enter a Jewish children's home and throw stones at the people who are there.

But they are not as good as the Germans.

With declarations like this, it is easy to see that the ethics of the world are not as good as the Germans.

Germany is the only country that met exactly the same conditions when he was on earth. The rulers in the world said he was a fool.

He was a fool, and he was a fool.

He was a fool, and he was a fool.

He was a fool, and he was a fool.

Carefulness Is Virtue On Winter Vacations

By ALICIA HART

Smart girls come back from winter vacations looking like a million dollars. Eyes shining, skin tight, hair smooth and sleek and tanned a warm, golden beige, their appearance about that they had run and, at the same time, got themselves in the pink of condition.

It really is a mistake to decide that the only way to get back money's worth out of the resort hotels unless you have five huge meals a day. You will eat more and more, because, of course, because you'll be taking more exercise—but don't overdo the idea, or you'll end up with a bulging waistline, or worse.

On the other hand, it is just as big a mistake to overdo the lack of exercise. One who has been chained to a desk for a year or who had no exercise to speak of in the winter, will be unable to swim and play tennis and eighteen holes of golf and a bit of ping-pong the day after he gets back to town. The body will tolerate no such quick change from a lethargic state to a more active one. You will have to make it easy and give yourself a chance to stretch and then get to bed at four times and then get to bed at four in the night routine.

And don't forget to take the candle at both ends. It would be silly to spend a vacation worrying about getting to bed at four in the morning, or, on the other hand, it is anything but silly to make it a rule to sleep nine hours a day.

Two thousand miles away, if you don't sleep three and get to bed at four times and get to bed at four in the night routine.

Get the covered coat, the hat, the mittens, the coat too, the satin oil or lotion and stay in the bright sunshines no more than fifteen minutes the first day, twice the second, and then, under your coat, condition—no danger in cooling.

The sunburn will be around your eyes at night and wear colored glasses when lying on the beach sitting in a rumble seat or sitting on the boat deck. Eyestrain can bring about a loss of beauty unless you are very careful about the eyes, the eyebrows, the nose, the mouth and the hair.

It is the same time too many women, I am afraid, will put their entire trust in these physical manifestations, and feel perfectly content that if they are well-groomed, they are well-qualified. Of today's gentlewoman, freshness and fragrance are the chief qualities of hair and perfume, of lips and immaturity of hands.

But at the same time too many women, I am afraid, will put their entire trust in these physical manifestations, and feel perfectly content that if they are well-groomed, they are well-qualified. The correct number of diamonds, little ugly earring, pressed above their brows, and so on, in bed with these, the kindly blouse, the well-arranged hair and oil, they have done all they can do to make themselves

This is a very pitiful mistake, and it accounts for thousands of dresses, traps and headgear, and divorces every year. For it is one thing more than another that is, and alienates a husband from his wife, and the conviction that his wife not only is completely absorbed in her appearance, but is also concerned in making an appeal through it to other men than himself. The result is that the husband grows incensed. To him, it is his lack of her kiss, her red, red lips and the things she says and does that are important, not her face young. He may be telling her that he fears his eyeight is failing, but she is not interested in the rocks, and all the while she is eyeing herself critically in a palm tree or under a palm tree, or in a telephone receiver, or in a telephone booth, until he stops speaking, when she will instantly telephone Henry that comes to the rescue, and she has another hand-to-hand meeting.

Women like this love to drift down the boulevards, the boulevards by the saloons, who prance them half-naked. They like to sit in the bars, talk to the waiters, restaurants, and have their friends, etc., see the new fashions and new fads.

Wire your manicure beauties to get the last bit chipped around the edges, do something about it immediately. If you haven't time to repair it, then you must repair it very quickly, at least remove the polish. For colorless fingernails never grow back.

The first step ever made from nail polish in Birmingham, Ala. was produced in 1938. One ton of nail polish was produced as an export.

Long-Stemmed American Beauties

By John Robert Powers

In a nationwide search for a girl with a perfect figure by the large number of men who have been looking for an easy winner June was born in the month of my name. See the front page of the news of June 1916 in Edmonton, Canada.

In spite of her young age she is in point of service a good model. June has been sought after for over thirteen years having started at the age of seven. As a child she posed for many painters in New York, the famous illustrated also posed as the Christ Child for the famous painting of that name in the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

It was as a result of an illustration by Nerva that June was known in a country that I first learned June. With the exception of a few months in the theatre she has been working for me for the past year.

She appears as the step-daughter to Paul Muni in "Bachelor Born" and then in "Growing Pains." She has had a number of other parts as an actress on several radio programs. Miss Cox has no ambition to be a dancer, but she has a desire to be just "just don't want to be." Her favorite actress is Carole Lombard.

June is a country girl who stayed through the high school years.

June has had a number of exciting experiences in her short but eventful life, not the most thrilling one was about two years ago when she went to the first time to a dance. June was invited by a friend to take a ride over Long Island in his open cockpit plane she was so frightened she did not know what was in store for her. Once off the ground her friend proceeded to fly for what seemed an eternity upside down, upside down, upside down, upside down, upside down, upside down.

Stray Shots
Consols Monday

WHILE the current business has failed to produce anything like the sensational string of events that the Rose rink ran up in 1937, there is no denying that last night's Grand Challenge final was as thrilling and spectacular as any one could ask for.

Kemp and his Royals won the hard way, fighting uphill from the first end. Ability to do this is the sole test of championship calibre in any sport. Plenty of men can fight doggedly on the bitter end, but the ability to fight and win out is the mark of champion.

The victory of the Kemp team was a popular one with the curling fraternity in view of the number of hard-woe he has put in on the cause of the Alberta Curling Association and the fact that he has fought his hard way, step by step, in the last two seasons. The hopefulness of a coming year lived in him, and his strong feelings go no way toward the formation of a J. I. Mann. This year, he can begin with the rock heaven.

Bonspiel Side-Lights

DISTINCTION of being the oldest rink in the 20th annual bonspiel of the Alberta Curling Association goes to the Paisley Valley Curling Club. At 50 years of age it is holding a major bonspiel and competing with the best. The Paisley Valley team, which includes the late Jim Homan, is in the final round of the rink with J. S. Glazier of the Edmonton Club, and play at 8 p.m. this evening. The rink was drawn in Glazier's second on the draw, the Paisley Valley to play with on Wednesday.

If Irish wins through this morning's semi-final of the Calgary bonspiel, he will be battling his old skip, Billy Ross of Redgewick, in the final of this event. Irish played third for Ross in 1937 bonspiel here.

George Robertson is the man to whom the skipper is a day and night job at top speed. Glazier, as the man in charge of rock movements, the intricate drawing of stones and the like, has been working for an extension this his 10th year in curling. Glazier is a man of great character and a friend to all. He is the skipper of the Paisley Valley team, and we wish them good luck for many years to come.

Friend went up, and we wish them good luck for many years to come.

The rest of the players took it that Glazier was congratulating Schmitz on a good performance, and the rest of us, forgetting that Friend and Ross are in there. When the draw came it was a fact that one could hardly see the draw line. After seeing a rolling rock, the draw line was visible.

Friend and Ross were in the draw line.

--- Swallow One — Two!

A new order has come into being in the British army since the Great War. These men, part of a group of volunteers from the First Battalion of the Grenadier Guards at Cheltenham Barracks, England, aren't sick, but they're not well. They're taking "pills" to keep warm. The "pills" are "pigs" in an experiment devised to find some defense against the common cold. The pills they are taking consist largely of a preparation of iodine, and beneficial results are said to be evident already.

Monkeys Know

How monkeys swing is another tale entirely, but these baby chimps in the Philadelphia Zoo learned how to swing on their own.

Printer Claims Throne

Debuted working on his hand-operated printing press at Blymby, London, is Count Poblocki, a British subject, born in Auckland, New Zealand, who claims to be the acknowledged King of Poland. Count Poblocki is the right-hand king of Poland. Count Poblocki publishes a monthly journal in which he sets forth his claims. He wears his hair to the waist over a long red robe.

Franco's Victorious Columns March Into Barcelona

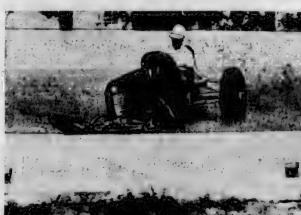

Columns of Gen. Franco's victorious troops, left, marching into Barcelona, after the furious Catalonia offensive had carried them into the last remaining held by government troops in eastern Spain. Though bitter fighting had marked early stages of the campaign, the victorious armies met little resistance.

Right, a group of civilian women, city of Lleida, awaiting before the advance. At right, part of Barcelona's civilian population is pictured greeting the insurgent soldiers. The Loyalist retreat became a rout as Franco's forces pressed beyond Barcelona and the government and a greater part of its Catalonia army crossed the frontier into France.

One Driver, One Day --- Two Crashes

Notices from the camera record two accidents in one day to one man in New York. In New York, Piss, broke an axle while rounding a turn at 75 miles an hour at 11th and Flushing. That's shown in picture at right. In Stevens car threw off a wheel. That's shown a split-second later in the picture at right. Stevens reached the finish line on three wheels—but not in time to win.

No. 1 Hero Of Spain's Civil War

The toughest caballero in all Barcelona was what they called Corporal Celestino Garcia, left. Just a single hand grenade was all the Loyalist non-com needed to crush an attack by 13 Italian tanks. His missiles smashed the running gear of the tank leading the assault. Two behind piled up on it, wrecked, and the other 10 fled. He captured four Italian officers, two of whom pose glamorously above.

How To Keep Cool In Winter

After a hard day's work for Lynn Metal Corp., putting up a new bridge over the hot creek, as he is doing at left, Steve Guerrero is inclined to feel somewhat warm, so he hops out to the beach for ice cream and ice. Photo at right shows him relaxing on a snowbank and eating ice cream just to keep cool. Steve has been sunbathing every day for more than 18 years, regardless of the season.

One of the features about travel in Britain which generates interest in North America is the difference in the size of locomotives and trains. NOTED TENOR TRIUMPHANT IN CONCERT

Mychailo Holynsky Wins
Complete Approval of Theatre Audience

Unknown hereabouts, save to the few who have been drawn deep into current musical happenings in European countries, Mychailo Holynsky, noted tenor who with his wife, both known in opera houses of Berlin, Mexico, Warsaw, Odessa, Kiev and other cities, has come to the oil way into the hearts of Edmontonians at the Empire Theatre on Friday evening, Feb. 10. His advance billing appeared a few short weeks ago, few Edmontonians have even heard of this moldavian tenor. Considering the audience that greeted him was from capacity—although a large cover can be placed in the Empire without filling the auditorium.

But it is almost certain that should he appear again he will fill to sing a full house, for his concert of Friday stamped him as a artist to be reckoned and endorsed him to all present.

Intriguing charm pervaded the concert, the silvery quality of the voice, its power and range—all made a strong, general appeal.

Sturdy, built his voice plainly shows this, as both appearance and voice are of the robust type, rather than the slender, delicate type of Monell or a Gilei rather than a Monell or Martin.

Holynsky has been compared in the east to the late Enrico Caruso. Such comparisons are unnecessary and tend to do no good. More especially, he is not a Caruso. The sky is of sufficient artistic stature to stand on his own merits, without sharing the laurels of the great of the late, lamented Naples master.

VIBRANT VOICE

He has a splendid, full-bodied, vibrant voice, well worth a ringing round of applause, which will be faded out to the point where it can be scarcely heard, yet when once heard, it will be remembered to the point where there is a tremendous power.

He has shone brightly in the dramatic and more masculine numbers, in which brilliance told with special effect, countering the absence of enunciation.

The program was well varied and caused to display the various shades and tones of his voice, which included Italian operatic arias and Ukrainian and Slovakian numbers, the latter being the most popular, but the Ukrainian and Slovakian numbers for the most part, were the best.

In his singing of the beloved Celeste Aida by Verdi, he rose in great power and his friend's impressions of the singer from opera houses Andrea Chenier and in Leoncavallo's Vesti la Giubba. In all these numbers, music and words, music and poetry alike and his brilliant voice brought out the best of both.

WELL VARIED

His Ukrainian and Slovakian numbers included Verdant Mountain, by W. K. Kostyuk; Oh! Willow, by L. Kostyuk; Come Again by Nizankowski; A Thought by Lysenko; Come are the Days by Lysenko, who was also represented by The Horn of Sorrow; a Slovakian folk song, and a number of songs by Hryhorivsky. The Old Down and Brave Cossack of Mine.

Then there was the memorable Song of Dovbush, dealing with the homesickness of Dovbush, a Ukrainian Robin Hood type. The

FINE RECEPTION

The audience was enthusiastic throughout the concert.

After the concert several encores were given, including the impassioned Il Trovatore and the stirring Brilliant Shining from Puccini's Tosca.

Ambrose Holynsky was at the piano, and the stage was filled with his helpful accompaniments, always alert and restrained, never once leaving the piano.

An added attraction was the presentation of Mr. Holynsky by Mayor George F. Clark, who presented a gold medal to the tenor.

After the concert, the tenor was invited to the home of the tenor, he sat down in the living room, turned on the radio and sang a few songs.

He then had a few glasses of beer, a few cigarettes and a cigar.

A check-up of the house when the occupant returned showed nothing of value was taken.

Little Orphan Annie

OUR HAIRY HERO, THE FOUR-FOOTED GENTLEMAN WITH THE WHISKERS SOMETIMES KNOWN AS SANDY, IS NOW THE PET OF THE HOUSEHOLD—THE BRAVE OLD BATTLER, SCOURGE FOR BURGLARS, NOW SITS IN THE CHOICE CORNER BY THE STOVE, FILLED WITH SOUP BONES AND OTHER CHOICE MORSELS BY DOTING VICTORIA...

HUMPH! I SWEAR I CAN'T SEE WHAT FUN YOU GET OUT OF GOING HUNTING ON A DAY LIKE THIS—
I DO WISH YOU WOULDN'T TAKE SANDY—WHY, HE'LL GET RHEUMATISM OR MAYBE PNEUMONIA...

HA! HA! DON'T GUESS IT'LL HURT HIM—FANCY IT—
HELL ENJOY IT—
SURE—ANYWAY, A GOOD AIRING OUGHTA IMPROVE THAT SMELL DOGS HAVE.

TUCK! ONE MORE SMART REMARK LIKE THAT AND ILL—ILL—
ANYWAY, I DON'T
IS JUST AS CLEAN AS WE ARE, AND DON'T YOU FORGET IT.

TCH! TCH! THE CHANGEABLENESS OF SOME WOMEN!
OH, WELL, I'M ON. ANNIE—LET'S GET GOING—

DO YOU THINK
WELL FIND
MANY RABBITS,
TUCK?

PROBABLY NOT—
ANY SMART RABBIT WOULD STAY IN HIS
NICE WARM HOME TO DRY—BUT THE WALK WON'T HURT US—

BUT—ER—
WALKIN' OVER ROUGH
GROUND THIS WAY—
MEAN---

WON'T IT BE BAD FOR AN OLD CRIPPLE LIKE ME?
NO—
I'M LOADED DOWN
SOME WITH MACHINE GUN
SLUGS AND SHRAPNEL—
I LIMP SOME, BUT I'M
WELL ENOUGH OTHERWISE—

IT MUST HAVE BEEN A TERRIBLE
WAR, WASN'T
IT, TUCK?

SURE—ALL WARS ARE TERRIBLE—ALWAYS HAVE BEEN—BUT PEOPLE SEEM TO KEEP ON HAVING THEM—ALWAYS BEEN THAT WAY—

BUT LOTS O'
FOLKS SAY TIMES
HAVE CHANGED—
SOON PEOPLE
WILL USE REASON
STEAD O' FORCE—

WELL, ACCORDING TO
THE NEWS TO DATE,
FOLKS WITH DESIRABLE
PROPERTY AREN'T
HAVING MUCH LUCK
KEEPING IT, OR THEIR LIVES, BY JUST USING
REASON AGAINST GUNS—

BUT
IT'S ALL
SO
DOG-GONE
WRONG—

SURE IT IS—ALWAYS HAS BEEN, ANNIE—AS TO TIMES
CHANGING—MAYBE—BUT EXCEPT FOR THE TOOLS OF
WAR, THEY HAVEN'T CHANGED
MUCH IN FIVE THOUSAND YEARS—PEOPLE HAVEN'T CHANGED ANY—

GEE—THEM
WHAT'S
THE USE
O' TRYIN' TO LEARN MORE
OR BE BETTER?

HAI HA! WE HAVE TO LEARN
FASTER ALL THE TIME TO KEEP EVEN WITH STYLES—STYLES IN CLOTHES, IN TRANSPORTATION AND COMMUNICATION—THINGS LIKE THAT ANNIE—

AS TO TRYING TO BE BETTER—
IT'S BEING GENEROUS, DECENT, HONEST,
COMPASSIONATE AND KIND, THE BEST
WE KNOW HOW, THAT KEEPS US
HUMAN BEINGS ---- NOT BEASTS!

WHY, SANDY'S A HEAP
MORE HUMAN THAN PLenty
OF TWO-LEGGED ANIMALS
I CAN THINK OF—HELL FIGHT FOR HIS OWN TO THE
DEATH—BUT HE'S NO
COWARDLY BULLY—

SURE—
SANDY'S ALWAYS
LITTLE FELLOW—

IN A GENERAL DOG FIGHT,
I'D BET ON SANDY CLEANING UP THE LOT—BUT IN THE
MEANTIME, HE'S FOR PEACE
AND TOLERANCE—HAI HA!
NOT A BAD PROGRAM FOR A DOG—OR A NATION, EH?

I DON'T LIKE
AND I
NEVER WILL—

Maw Green

WHUSH! IT'S MEAN OLD
ZEKE CRAPFLAKE—MISERY,
WHEEDLE, DOUCHE, WASHIN',
SCANDLE-PEDDLIN' HEATHEN—
DISGRACE TO A DECENT NEIGHBORHOOD. HE IS—

CHEATIN' HONEST SOULS
OUT O' THEIR LIFE
SAVINGS! ACTIN' POOR
WIDOWS TO FREEZE AND STARVE—WHY MUST WE BE AFFLICTED WIT' HIS KIND?

HELLO, JOHNNIE.
WHAT'S ON YER MIND?

GEE! TH' TEACHER
GIVE ME A TOUGH
SAVING, BUT I
DON'T SEE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN MISFORTUNE AND CALAMITY—

WELL, JOHNNIE,
SUPPOSIN' MEAN NO
OLD FOLK LIKE OLD
ZEKE CRAPFLAKE SHOULD FALL INTO THE RIVER—
THAT'D BE A MISFORTUNE—

BUT IF ANYBODY
HELPED PULL HIM
OUT, THAT'D BE A
CALAMITY!

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

OSPREYS

ARE WIDELY DISTRIBUTED OVER THE EARTH, AND ARE NEVER FOUND FAR FROM WATER, SINCE THEY LIVE SOLELY ON FRESH FISH.

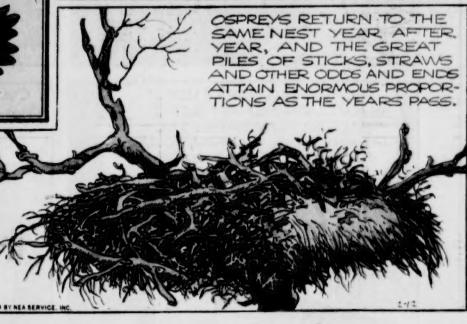

By WILFRED FERGUSON

SOMETIMES IT TACKLES A FISH SO LARGE THAT THE BIRD IS PULLED BENEATH THE SURFACE AND DROWNED BEFORE IT CAN LOSEN ITS GRIP.

A WING-SPREAD OF SIX FEET, CARRYING A BODY OF ONLY THREE POUNDS, GIVES THE BIRD POWER ENOUGH TO CARRY MOST CATCHES TO ITS NEST WITH EASE.

OSPREYS RETURN TO THE SAME NEST YEAR AFTER YEAR, AND THE GREAT PILES OF STICKS, STRAWS AND OTHER ODDS AND ENDS ATTAIN ENORMOUS PROPORTIONS AS THE YEARS PASS.

THESE FISHHAWKS ARE PERFECTLY ADAPTED TO THEIR MODE OF LIVING! THE TOES ARE STUDDED WITH HORNY SPIKES AND TIPPED WITH LONG, WELL CURVED CLAWS TO PREVENT FISH FROM WRIGGLING FREE.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

I GUESS WE'RE REALLY STUCK THIS TIME! I'LL NEVER GET TO THE TRAIN IN TIME! IT LEAVES AT 9!

RUN OVER TO THAT FARM-HOUSE AND FIND OUT WHAT TIME IT IS WHILE I DIG OUT OF HERE!

COPR. 1938 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

IT'S EXACTLY FIFTEEN AFTER EIGHT.

THANKS, MISTER! SAY, IS THAT A SLIDING HILL OVER THERE?

SURE IS! BEST ONE AROUND THESE PARTS! GO ON OVER... SOMEONE LEND YOU HIS SLED!

BOY, THAT MAKES SIXTY-TWO TRIPS!! STICK AROUND... AFTER SUPPER THEY BRING BOB-SLEDS OUT ON THE HILL WHEN THE SLIDE FREEZES!

IT'S NO USE JUNE! I'VE HUNTED HIGH AND LOW FOR HIM! GEE, WE'VE BEEN HERE FOR HOURS!

HERE HE COMES NOW!

WE GOT THE CAR OUT HOURS AGO, AND WE'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR YOU EVER SINCE!! I GOT THE TIME, LIKE YOU ASKED... THE MAN SAID FIFTEEN MINUTES AFTER EIGHT!

THAT WAS THIS MORNING! YOU NEVER RAN AN ERRAND RIGHT IN YOUR LIFE!

MISTER, COULD YOU PLEASE TELL ME THE TIME?
